Chapter 1

Package : glasses.ext

This package contains the classes that deal with external components such as the ffmpeg codec and ports. It is intended for connecting the abstract info inside the package to make it useful after connecting it to the outside world.